Character

Well balanced, fruity, rich and long-lasting, this typical Amarone is garnet-red in the glass, with a few purple reflections. Its medium-weight bouquet brings aromas of prunes, figs and raisins, with further notes of stone fruit and berries. On the palate it is slightly sweet, fresh and aromatic - soft, full-bodied and harmonious. Here again it reveals its notes of berries and dried fruit, with additional hints of clove, pepper and toast, and a pleasing finish.

Producer

Cantina Valpantena

The Cantina Sociale della Valpantena lies in the heart of Valpantena, northwest of Verona. The cooperative, founded in 1958, mainly grows the indigenous varieties of Corvina and Rondinella here in the valley with verified designation of origin in the Verona hills. Commitment and professional care are part of all production phases, whereby tradition and technical innovation become one. The excellent quality of the wines proves that the grapes and olives of the 300 member farms of the Cantina Sociale Valpantena are optimally processed.
