Producer

Belle Vallée in Partnerschaft mit
Jean-René Germanier

Valais, the cradle of Swiss viticulture, impresses with its terroir and unique sun-drenched climate. The vines flourish in this perfect position on the terraces. For Belle Vallée, renowned winegrower Jean-René Germanier only uses grape varieties that prosper here. The experienced specialist with strong roots in the region knows the characteristics of each variety. He is committed to the terroir and refines the indigenous grapes into unique wines full of character.
