

Malvirà, 2024

Roero Arneis DOCG - Bio

Country of origin
Italy

Grapes
Arneis

Serving temperature
9 - 12°C

Allergen notice
Contains sulphites

Alcohol content
12%

Character

This light white wine has a delightfully lively bouquet of apple and quince notes typical of the grape variety, with a touch of peach and elements of white blossom. On the palate it has a fine initial sweetness, a clean freshness and intense aromas; its full fruit are wonderfully supported by its harmonious and full-bodied structure.

Wine type

Light wines

Fresh wines

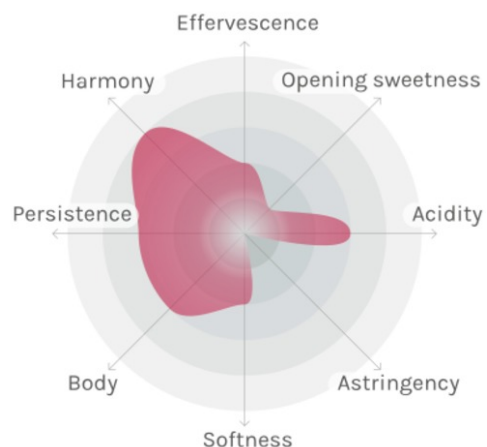

Sweeter wines

Producer

Malvirà

Azienda Agricola Malvirà is located a few kilometres from Alba, in the heart of the Roero region, near the village of Canale - a family business as one might find in an Italian picture book. The Damonte brothers cultivate quality wines on the farm founded by their father. The two brothers share a passion for wine and complement each other wonderfully: Massimo manages the vineyards and Roberto looks after the cellar. The whole family works together to produce the wines, which owe their characteristic mineral freshness to the typical sandy, chalky soil.

Foodpairing

Asian dishes