Producer

Chateau Changyu Moser XV

Château Changyu Moser XV in Ningxia in central West China is on the same latitude as Sicily, southern Spain and California. Austrian winemaker Lenz Moser, chief winemaker of Château Changyu Moser XV, recognised China's potential as a winegrowing country; the Château is the lasting acknowledgement of the traditional Moser vine-cultivating family to viticulture in China. The cooperation with China's most promising wine talents combines innovation with generation-old expertise in wines and quality on a par with the best European traditions. This guarantees the high quality of Château Changyu wines and their processing.
